During the slo-motion chess moves of the Microsoft Anti-Trust Trial it is interesting to note a few of the "extraordinary events" in Orange County since the New Year, in order to gain an overall perspective of the "big board".

An LA Times chess column after New Years hinted at the "greatest, largest real estate chess game", beginning right now. Certainly COX Communications, Orange and San Diego counties are involved with major pension funds and investments behind the chessboard.

On a smaller scale, my sister & her husband, Bonnie & Al Rex have placed their home for sale with a realtor and friend. My feelings are that their home, my brother Barry's home, and perhaps my cousin Robert Miller's home in suburban Chicago were purchased with funds illegally appropriated from me, using a variety of underhanded methods. My parents' visits to the IRS confirming sales of these homes leads me to believe that a court order has finally been enforced.

My Friday "Knight" move, motoring the silver Celica chariot to Kinko's Irvine center signaled additional documents for the US v Microsoft litigation for those who followed. The subsequent road trip to LA's Westwood FBI office and a visit to the Los Angeles Federal Building were closely monitored by others loyal to Disney, Oracle, Apple Computer, and multinational affiliates. Castrol GTX was even kind enough to award me with a print ad in AOL /Time Warner's Sports Illustrated later on Friday evening, confirming it's OK to drive your car "hard", as long as you use their oil. The wonders of today's electronic / print advertising at lightspeed!

My Wilshire 5-speed legal Celica sprint from the FBI offices in Westwood to the Federal Building in downtown LA in under 40 minutes during Friday's rush hour was definitely noteworthy.

Tony Tavares, President of Disney's Anaheim Sports knew he was finished at Disney / Anaheim Sports, resigning on Friday, about the time my documents were printed.

Some of my recent writings had references to the PAC funding from Arrowhead Water Company & Disney, stalling my employment search & documents regarding antics at the Crystal Cathedral's concourse elevator, where I provide volunteer service on Sunday mornings.

The Crystal Cathedral's music & creative teams use Macintosh computers for music scoring & multimedia creations. This team recently received new IMACs and other Macintosh computers, perhaps as part of a "grant". Some of the administration uses PCs running versions of Microsoft Windows. Email can be sent across the platform at the Garden Grove campus.

The volunteer security service I provide on Sunday's has really evolved into a political position. Most of the choir members meet at this area when forming for each procession (usually two each morning), musical and pulpit guests are escorted on the concourse level via the elevator nearby. As I have mentioned in an earlier memo, I have purchased a small 13" Sony TV in order to view the telecasts downstairs, and coordinate the security efforts with others.

Each week at this service brings new challenges, mostly social skills answering guests questions, and providing friendly service to the staff. That's no problem. Other times, a few of the Crystal Cathedral's family members scheme a few events targeted to challenge me. Most events are harmless pranks, I just roll with the humor.

Yesterday, however, I believe additional pollen was placed in suspension on a table, perhaps through oil in a perfume, or sprayed on the Sony TV, exasperating my bronchitis/upper respiratory infection, challenging and overwhelming double 24 Hour Sudafed medication ingested before I arrived.

My sinus and face could hardly stop from running, after the previous bronchitis had mostly cleared up. I know from educated biofeedback when an accelerant or another "piggyback" attack would occur from experience. Fortunately, my experience as a professional and athlete (just as the Crystal Cathedral members are) allows me to perform even with a fever & cold, as I never missed a live Blackhawks Hockey game during the three seasons I performed at the Chicago Stadium.

The Orange County Register had their Show section cover page with the title "Blackhawk Down", a double meaning for the editors. Fortunately, my conditioning allowed me to run 12 miles at Newport Beach the day before the Crystal Cathedral security gig.

President George Bush and his family were vacationers in California and Oregon this weekend. "W" visited a predominantly Hispanic group of supporters in Ontario on Saturday morning. We had heard rumors that the Presidential family may visit the Crystal Cathedral, however their afternoon trip to Portland, Oregon on Saturday signaled a different agenda, perhaps to visit with some of the of the Nike, HP & Intel Beaverton Bunch, and to show support for this heavily Republican area.

Sony Pictures' "Blackhawk Down", like several of Hollywood's recent titles, "The Rat Race", "Ocean's Eleven, 12/07/01 'Are You In?'" and others have had a subliminal theme regarding foreplanned activities for me. While I was training for the LA Marathon with the Roadrunners in Venice Beach last August & September, "The Rat Race" began to appear on billboards throughout Hollywood, beginning in late September / October.

One of the best "Amway" motivational tapes I heard was, "When You Know Why, You Can Endure How!" This philosophy is truly inspirational, with a success story from one of the hard working members of the INA group. A lot of people criticize the methods that "Amway" people use, in the media especially, however their perseverance is incredible, using group training as one key for success!

The Hollywood movie "moguls" continue to spend millions of dollars on schemes in order to stall my financial settlement. Most of these companies had been fuelling the subversion against me for years, for unknown reasons other than the Wirtz / Blackhawk connection I had many years ago. I have detailed some of the "forced labor" in the multi-decade plot to "clone" the replacement hockey musician, and the multinational million dollar plot to cover it up afterward.

In 1977, the first edition of an advertising book for cable and broadcast television authored by San Diego State University Telecommunications Professor, Elizabeth Heighton, was released. The second edition, dedicated to "Bob & Dorothy, again!" was rereleased in 1985-86, the years I attended SDSU's Telecommunications program. In other words, an eight year "overtime" forced labor period occurred because I first refused the Stadium opportunity in 1977. I received my BA from Northeastern Illinois University in 1979, and continued to perform live music and represent information technology products in the Chicago area until 1985.

Closing, with a few words about last week's "Red Letter Day" courtesy of local Aliso Viejo USPS workers and several large companies.

Geico insurance, Speigel Catalog, and I'm certain, the investment side of Wells Fargo in Orange County, CA conspired to send their "red letters" at one time, distributed by the Aliso Viejo USPS for delivery last week. That takes quite a bit of coordination folks, almost as much as a "grassy knoll / textbook depository" conspiracy.

I have appreciated the USDOJ confirmation that some Crest toothpaste has been spiked with a sedative in my parents home, stored in their bathroom. I used one of the new tubes a few months after my mother had purchased these "especially for me" for one application, wondering why the tubes had never been used. I could feel the sedative reaction to my day's performance. The Crest tubes have a "gold leaf" shape on the box, and a similar printing on the tube. I have never used the toothpaste after the first trial, knowing the "Muenchausen's Proxy Syndrome" and previous food packaging / intentional poisoning experience my family has.

This Blackhawk was never downed by the anthrax attack. I only had a few easy days after the new year running at Newport Beach, Niketown & shopping visits in LA shopping & USDOJ document processing in between! My father had called one of his Chicago area sisters on Saturday. I overheard a part of the conversation that stated, "It's like the flu, when you're down for a few days!" My father hasn't been sick for over a month, and this conversation was most probably a confirmation of the anthrax or bio attack on me.

Thank you for listening,

Robert Remington
